HC to Stage 'Medea' Soon

The Starboard Theater of Harbor College will present its first full-length production of the school year when it stages "Medea" by Euripides from Thursday, Nov. 29, through Wednesday, Dec. 5, on the Harbor College campus.

Taking leading parts will be Jacqueline Smalley, of Miralste, as Medea and Eugene Dynarski, of San Pedro, as Jason. The collegians are using the Robinson Jeffers version of the Greek tragedy in which Dame Judith Anderson scored resounding triumphs on Broadway and in television.

The play will be performed in modern Greek costume with central staging. This means that seating will be limited in the small Starboard Theater. All seats are reserved and tickets may be procured at the finance office on campus. Tickets are $1.00, general admission, and 25 cents for ASO cardholders.

The student directors solved a casting problem in finding two small boys to play the parts of Medea's sons. Mrs. Ruth Smith, a drama student, volunteered the services of one of her sons, James Smith, and a member of her Cub Scout troop, John Beggs.

Other members of the cast are: Elizabeth Glogovcan, nurse; Dennis Pierce, tutor; Faye Butler, first woman; Kathleen Hooker, second woman; Sibbie Oursler, third woman; Jay Louchrin, Creon, Joseph Rojas, Aegeus; Edmond Faulkner, Jason's slave.

Growth of Cabrillo S&L Told

Cabrillo Savings assets have grown over 30 per cent in the past four months, according to latest figures reported by the local association. Assets are now $6,163,843.21.

In announcing the new totals, Pietro di Carlo, head of Cabrillo Savings, pointed out that more and more shoppers patronizing Rolling Hills Plaza, where Cabrillo Savings is located, are finding it convenient to drop in and deposit their savings during their shopping trips.

"Saving of time and travel is an extra reason why the people of this community are moving their accounts to this locally-owned institution," said di Carlo.

Fred Strohmerger, Cabrillo Savings vice president, reports that an increasing number of retail firms in the area are transferring their State sales tax deposits to Cabrillo Savings, where they earn 4 1/4 per cent annual interest, paid quarterly. All accounts at Cabrillo Savings are protected by $10,000 Federal-agency insurance.

Dr. Leo Cain Addresses CEC In Canada

Dr. Leo F. Cain, president of South Bay State College, presented the opening address, titled "United We Stand," at the regional meeting of the Council for Exceptional Children (CEC), which was held Nov. 14-17 at Winnipeg, Canada.

Dr. Cain is immediate past president and a member of the executive committee of the Council for Exceptional Children. The council is the largest professional organization in the country dealing with the problems of handicapped children.

During his visit to Winnipeg, Dr. Cain was invited to tour the campus of the University of Manitoba with members of the faculty in the department of arts and sciences, department of psychology, and department of education. This tour was scheduled by Dr. Cain in view of his duties in connection with the basic planning studies for the new South Bay State College.

The site of SBSC is to be announced by the Board of Trustees of California State Colleges at their Dec. 6-7 meeting in Fresno.
